Maroochdyore

Every now and then life serves up an opportunity that's simply too good to refuse...well, here it is!

Do you really want to be working for someone else for the rest of your career?
Or would you prefer to be the decision maker in control of your own business and making the money you should be making?

Here is your chance, this high profile mechanical business is not your normal workshop dealing in transmissions and engines, these guys simply unbolt parts and replace them with the best quality brands on the market.

Established 25 years in the same high profile location this impressive Maroochdyore based business offers exceptional systems, a huge workshop filled with state of the art equipment...
